SOUTHERN STATES COOPERATIVE FARM BULLETIN

What to Do About Fencing and Roofing

It takes a lot of steel to fight a war. Some of it is coming from the steel roofing and fencing you had planned to buy this spring. There may be a little steel roofing left in some places, but if you find it consider yourself lucky. Instead of steel you can turn to heavy grade roll roofing with a high quality felt base for long life. Choose Unico Roll Roofing. It will stand the rain, sleet, wind, snow and sun for years without cracking, checking or drying out.

You can prolong the life of old paper roofs with Unico Liquid Asbestos Roof Cement. It will stay put in hot weather and yet not crack in cold weather.

As for steel fencing . . . You can make your three strand barbed and smooth wire fence go three times as far with a Southern States Electric Fence Controller. The low-cost battery type will serve any farmer who does not yet have the farm wired. For sure-fire service there is the combination battery and house current model. String a single wire and hold back almost any livestock. They respect an electric fence, and your fencing problem is solved at a saving to you.

Cheer Up -- Paint Up

One farm supply you CAN get is paint. Ask for UNICO paint. It's made by your cooperative on the same high-grade specifications reached by test and experience before war broke. Unico paint will add as much as 16 years to the life of metal and wood buildings if thoroughly applied. There's nothing like UNICO paint to brighten things up.

The American BANKING System
IS
Democracy at its Best

There are some 16,000 American banks, each owned and operated by local citizens. Separate in a sense —yet they are knit together into one great 'system' by the common aim of service. Responsive to the needs of each community, yet they are geared to meet the nation's needs instantly in its hour of crisis. There's nothing like it elsewhere; it's the envy of every other country; it's democracy functioning at its very best.

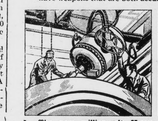
Steel-Piercing Eye

Steel used in vital parts for war machines—planes, tanks, ships, guns—must be flawless, because America's fighting men must have weapons that are both accurate and tough.



1. The new million volt X ray built by General Electric saves precious hours in finding flaws. It is so powerful that its rays can pierce thick steel castings.

2. Defects in the steel show up on X-ray film. Therefore faulty materials are tossed aside before costly hours of machining have been spent on them.

3. A regular check-up on pieces of X-ray film worn on workers' wrists helps guard against prolonged exposure to the rays given off by the X-ray tube.

4. X-ray exposure needed for 5-inch-thick steel is now 2 minutes instead of previous 3½ hours! Whole days are saved in examination of even thicker castings.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

When you spend your Electric Nickel

Be Sure You Get Your 5c Worth!

YOUR ELECTRIC NICKEL buys more than any other nickel you spend, but of course you want it to buy all it can.

By taking a few simple precautions, by checking up on equipment, you can increase its buying power.

For Example . . . Take Light Bulbs

A blackened bulb or a dusty one uses just about as much current, but gives much less light. Check up on bulbs frequently. When they look blackened, replace them with new, clear bulbs. Keep them dusted—always.

Watch for Frayed Appliance Cords

Frayed appliance cords waste current. They might damage a motor—cause costly repair bills. They might cause the loss in use of an appliance and they are dangerous. Look for breaks, loose connections, or worn sections. Repair or replace the cord.

Use Your Range Economically

Roast your meats at proper temperature — it will save electricity and meat too. Turn surface units to low as soon as boiling begins. For economy tips, maximum efficiency, call our local Home Economists—no charge, no obligation.

NEW AVIATION CADETS

Richmond, Va., March 30.- One hundred and ten volunteer aviation cadets, including Cornelius Carwile, of Pamplin, Virginia, the largest group ever gathered together in one place in Virginia, were sworn in here last Friday. Under blue skies, brown red soldiers, high school cadet corps, mounted motorcycle police, bands, and officials of Army, State and city turned out in their honor in a parade which thrilled the thousands of onlookers....the first parade of World War II.

Just before they took their oath of enlistment, Governor Darden standing bare-headed on the south portico of the capitol told them "Virginia is proud to call you her sons. She knows that wherever the fortunes of war may call you, and on whatever fields, far-flung as they may be, on which you may see service, you will discharge with courage and honor the duties assigned. You mark a great hour in American history, as you go to join the countless thousands who now constitute the armed forces of our nation... Many happy landings to each of you and remember this as you leave us ....Virginia will always be doing her part to 'Keep-em flying.'"

40% of Bomber Plant Workers Will Be Women

KANSAS CITY.—Officials of North American Aviation, Inc., disclosed that 40 per cent of the employees of its bomber assembly plant in Kansas City will be women. Wives of men in military service will be given preference.

Two High School Girls Are Really Selling Stamps

Two Senior pupils of the Appomattox high school, and members of the "My Future" Class, are doing a grand work in connection with the campaign to sell Defense Stamps. Professor L. Crawley, principal of the local school, has announced that these two pupils, Miss Virginia Harvey, and Miss Laura McFadden, have personally sold over $1,000 in stamps and bonds, and in addition are canvassing the county schools and asking all pupils to buy at least one stamp, and as many as possible. They are working for a one-hundred per cent subscription first, and then for regular weekly or monthly purchases by each pupil in the county. They have visited each school in the county in this campaign. Miss McFadden is from Appomattox, and Miss Harvey is from Evergreen. During the month of April a special campaign is being made in Appomattox County to have pledge cards signed for the regular purchase of both Defense Bonds and Stamps. Neighborhood committees are canvassing the communities of the county, and the payroll plan is being advocated to encourage regular investment in the financing of America's war effort. Phone, and scores of other pupils are setting a splendid example for their elders.

SEEK CANNERY HERE

County agent R. B. Hudgins has announced that efforts are being made to obtain a production signup in Appomattox county and the establishment of a tomato canning factory here.

All interested farmers are asked to meet at the Court House Friday night, April 3, at 8 o'clock. At this meeting, the owner of the cannery will discuss the production of tomatoes and explain the proposed contract.

Mr. Hudgins says that a few acres of tomatoes will supplement tobacco income and at the same time aid the government program of supplying tomatoes to our needs and those of the United Nations.

PLAN DISTRICT MEETINGS

Eight points in Virginia have been designated by the Virginia Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs for headquarters of district meetings, which this year will be of special importance since no state meeting will be held at Blacksburg this summer.

Although the tire shortage has placed limitations on travel, Mrs. H. H. Walton, of Fredericks Hall, Federation president, and Miss Maude E. Wallace, assistant director in charge of home demonstration work, Virginia Agricultural Extension Division, are looking forward to a representative attendance from the clubs in each district.

The Federation has seven state goal chairmen who will attend the meeting nearest their homes, and Miss Janet Cameron, food and nutrition specialist with the Extension Division, will attend most of the meetings. The goal chairmen are: Mrs. Ben Wailes, Sweet Briar, public relations; Mrs. W. E. Walker, Sandston, citizenship; Mrs. Charles Ellis, Rustburg, library; Mrs. I. McG. Thompson, Ashland, world youth; Mrs. N. C. Bailey, Orange, conservations; Mrs. B. H. Hodges, Greenlee, health; Mrs. Joe Keller, Abington, housing.

The latter goal is a recent addition to state objectives and will receive special emphasis as an aid in warfare morale and as a back-log against post-war depression through a planned program for better rural housing.

District presidents of the Federation will have charge of their respective meetings, as follows:

Central district, at Lynchburg, April 18, Mrs. I. P. Wailes, of Amherst, chairman.

DEBATE AND QUIZ

There will be a humorous debate and quiz tonight at the auditorium, sponsored by Circle No. 3 of Memorial church.

SOYBEAN CAMPAIGN

Particular emphasis has been placed upon oil-bearing crops, such as soybeans by the Department of Agriculture War Board, so that our supply of oils and fats may not be reduced too drastically because of the Far East imports being cut off.

W. T. Nash, chairman of the Appomattox county board, says the revised soybean goal for this county is 2,000 acres.

An extensive drive to reach this acreage is already under way.

DEFENSE BOND DRIVE

With Judge Joel W. Flood as county chairman, a drive is in progress in Appomattox county to secure pledges for the regular purchase of Defense bonds and Defense Stamps. Local committees are making a canvas of each neighborhood in the county.
